WHAT WERE THE FUND COSTS FOR THE PAST YEAR? (based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Class Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Retail Class	$151	1.33%

HOW DID THE FUND PERFORM LAST YEAR AND WHAT AFFECTED ITS PERFORMANCE?

The Fund’s performance for the trailing 12-month period ended July 31, 2024 for the Retail class was 26.51% compared with its benchmark, the S&P 500 Total Return, which was 22.15%. The Fund invests primarily in securities of companies, of any size market capitalization, listed on U.S. stock exchanges. The Fund may also invest in preferred stocks, warrants, options, and other equity-like instruments.

Stock selection drove performance to outpace the S&P 500 over the past year led by KKR, Constellation Software, and Moody’s. The market bounced back and forth in the last year due to AI euphoria, rate cut hopes, growth, and inflation fears. The Fund’s performance rebounded in July as inflation worries eased and AI euphoria waned, leading to broader market participation. Additionally, smaller market cap stocks staged a comeback versus their mega cap peers, which benefited a number of our holdings.

During the past year we modestly trimmed a select few larger positions and opportunistically added to several existing positions. We eliminated Adobe and Lumine.

The top five contributors to performance over the 12-months ended July 31, 2024, were KKR, Constellation Software, Moody’s, Mastercard, and Brookfield Corp.

The top five detractors from performance over the 12-months ended July 31, 2024, were CoStar, Adobe, Uber Technologies, Airbnb, and Veralto. Adobe was sold in September 2023. Uber Technologies was an exploratory position, and we have since pivoted to Airbnb. Veralto, a spinoff from Danaher, was sold shortly after receipt.

HOW DID THE FUND PERFORM OVER THE PAST 10 YEARS?*

The following graph reflects a hypothetical $10,000 investment in the class of shares noted over the 10-year period ended July 31, 2024. The chart uses total return NAV performance and assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions. Fund expenses, including 12b-1 fees, management fees and other expenses, were deducted.
